SECTION B

6. Read the following passage carefully and answer the questions that follow : 5×1=5

Education is the manifestation of the perfection already in man .... to me the very essence of education is concentration of mind, not the collecting of facts. If I had to do my education over again, and had any voice in the matter. I would not study facts at all. I would develop the power of concentration and detachment, and then with a perfect instrument I could collect facts at will. The education which does not help the common mass of people to equip themselves for the struggle for life, which does not bring out strength of character, a spirit of philanthropy, and the courage of a lion—is it worth the name ? Real education is that which enables one to stand on one's own legs.

Questions :

(a) What is real education ?

(b) What would the writer develop if he were to do his education over again ?

(c) According to the passage, the collecting of facts is an integral part of education. Write 'True or False'.

(d) Mention two objectives of true education as presented in the passage.

(e) What is the essence of education, according to the writer ?

14. Construct a dialogue between you and your teacher discussing different career options. $1 \times 5 = 5$

Or

Construct a dialogue between two friends on the first day at college.

15. Read the following passage and make notes : $1 \times 5 = 5$

Holidays are always welcome. Vacation is also the time to chuck out unexciting textbooks and fill your shelves with your favourite story books. There are so many other distractions around but the importance of reading for children, cannot be underestimated. As we grow up, we understand the world through stories.

It is important to ignite a passion for reading. Schools focus on literacy and language but perhaps not enough on just enjoying a story. We sometimes forget this value. Children come to buy books but the sad part is that parents try to influence them even while choosing story books. Instead of allowing them to make an independent choice, parents insist that the child pick up a book 'which can be of use to him in some way'.
