SECTION – A*(Reading Skills)

[ M. M. : 15 ]

1. Read the passage given below and answer the questions that follow :
  1. A healthy diet and regular exercise are the basis of well-being but highly affect people going through cancer. Lifestyle choices build the immune system, boost energy levels and maintain mental health. Cancer is a disease with multiple causes, including genetic, environmental and lifestyle factors.
  2. According to a study by the National Library of Medicine, food and lifestyle changes alone can prevent 30-40% of all malignancies. Excess cancer risk is influenced by a number of factors, including red meat consumption, low fiber intake, consumption of sweets and refined wheat products that impair glucose metabolism.
  3. If not treating cancer, proper nutrition would lessen the severity of treatment's side effects, including fatigue and nausea; physical activity would enhance strength and contribute to a quality of life. Healthy living can also prevent recurrences in some cancer survivors by promoting ideal body weight and lowering inflammation.
  4. Although intake of high fruits, vegetables, whole grains and lean proteins, accompanied by regular physical activity, may prevent or reduce the risk of developing certain cancers, it does not reverse cancers once developed. That is why, medical procedures, such as surgery, chemotherapy, radiation therapy or immuno therapy is essential to achieve effective cancer treatment.

1. Kumbh Melas are held on the banks of sacred rivers including the Ganga in Haridwar, the Godavari in Nashik and the Triveni Sangam, the confluence of three rivers in Prayagraj. These are the places where, according to a Puranic lore, the divine ambrosia spilt from the celestial Kumbh (pitcher) obtained during the churning of the ocean in a fight between gods and demons, is believed to have fallen.
2. Metaphorically, the Kumbh typifies the human body that contains the nectar of wisdom. So it must be purified since it is the means to fulfill one's dharma. Hindus do not regard rivers as just sources of water but as embodying the primeval element of nature that purifies everything. Water is regarded as a cleanser for body and mind.

3. A holy dip undertaken with faith during an auspicious planetary occurrence is said to brush off negative energy, exonerate sins, fulfill wishes and render salvation. Shuchita, purity of body, mind and soul, is essential for spiritual growth. While the body is cleansed by water, the mind by true knowledge and the soul is uplifted by selfless service and meditation.
4. Mahakumbh exemplifies the Vedic ideal of 'Unity in Diversity' by bringing together all the proponents of different Sanatan traditions. It is called the 'Parliament of Sanatan Dharma' that offers multiple perspectives on religion, culture and spirituality.

1. Do you think hibiscus is just a vibrant garden flower ? Perhaps it is the time to think again. Hibiscus sabdariffa, a tropical floral shrub, might also have some health advantages. The seeds, petals, leaves and stems of hibiscus have been utilized for generations in traditional medicine and food preparation. It has a sweet tart fruity flavour that is ideal for tea.
2. Hibiscus tea can support a healthy way of living. According to one study, it can reduce blood pressure in both high and non-high blood pressure subjects. Its ability to lower blood pressure is almost identical to that of blood pressure lowering drugs which helps in strengthening our heart and preventing cardiovascular diseases.

3. These days high cholesterol is one of the major health concerns amongst the old and the young generations. Low-density lipoprotein cholesterol that causes high cholesterol was also discovered to be considerably decreased by drinking hibiscus tea in a study. When compared to other teas, hibiscus tea's antioxidant concentration rocketed to the top, even knocking the well-known green tea off the top charts.
4. Research indicates that hibiscus tea can considerably lower people's high sugar levels. That is why, it is a great beverage for people with diabetes. It may help people lose weight and avoid becoming obese. However, more investigations and studies are required to know the results concisely.
